Lib Dem leader calls for a town TV debate on by-election

LIBERAL Democrat leader Tim Farron has challenged Theresa May and Jeremy Corbyn to a debate in Witney about the upcoming by-election and the state of the country.

Mr Farron spent time in Witney on Friday as part of Lib Dem candidate Liz Leffman's campaign ahead of the by-election on Thursday, October 20.

By George Welch

100th by-election campaign poster, toured Witney Community Hospital and opened the party's HQ for this month's campaign.

Mr Farron also used the opportunity to reiterate his desire to go up against Prime Minister and Conservatives leader Mrs May and Labour leader Mr Corbyn in a televised debate.

He said: "The Prime Minister became Conservative leader without facing a single TV debate and Jeremy Corbyn has called for a leaders debate.

"I'm challenging both of them to come to Witney and debate the by-election, Brexit, the economy, foreign affairs and what kind of society we want to build."

The clash would take place in David Cameron's old seat ahead of the by-election triggered by the former prime minister's resignation as an MP.

Detectives trawl videos in hunt for girl's rapists

POLICE are trawling through a 'substantial quantity' of video footage as they continue the hunt for two men who abducted and raped a schoolgirl in Oxford.

Officers have gathered video footage from CCTV and dash-cams from the day of the incident on Wednesday last week and taken information supplied by the public.

On Saturday, Thames Valley Police issued descriptions of the two men suspected of carrying out the assault, and on Monday announced they would be focusing patrols on the Marston Meadow area.

Supt Joe Kidman, the newly-appointed LPA Commander for Oxford, said: "I know the shock this rare incident has caused in our city and want to add my thanks for all the support provided by the public in coming forward with information.

"High-visibility patrols will continue in the area to offer ongoing support and reassurance. If anyone has any concerns, please speak to one of the Neighbourhood Policing team or please call the Thames Valley Police enquiry centre on 101."

Detectives believe the 14-year-old girl, who was wearing her uniform, was raped after she was snatched by two men in a silver hatchback car as she walked to school in the busy Banbury Road and Marston Ferry Road area.

The first offender is described as being a white man in his mid 20s, of medium build, with blue eyes and shaven dark blonde hair, which was balding. He is about 6ft tall and spoke with a northern accent.

The second man, also white, is said to be younger, in his late teens or early 20s, clean shaven with brown, gelled hair. He had brown eyes and was slightly smaller in build than the first offender.

The girl was abducted at about 8.25am and found by police officers at midday in Cavendish Drive, Marston, after she had knocked on doors of homes seeking help.

Jean Fooks, city councillor for Summertown, condemned the attack, saying: "It's appalling and I'm completely gobsmacked that such an awful thing could happen. I feel more than sadness, anger really, that we live in such a world, but it seems that we do. It just shows that we need to be aware that there are dangerous people about."

If you have any information about the incident call 101, quoting reference 1631(28/9).

Hall's move marks end of single-sex education

OXFORD'S St Benet's Hall has made history by accepting female undergraduates for the first time in its 119-year history.

Last weekend, nine female and nine male undergrauuates arrived for the new academic year at St Benet's Hall in St Giles, marking the end to single-sex education at Oxford University.

The hall is run by the English

Congregation for Benedictines who wish to study at Oxford and is also known as a Permanent Private Hall.

St Benet's Hall was Oxford's last single-sex college or hall after St Hilda's College admitted men in 2008.

St Benet's Hall was founded by Benedictine monks in 1897 so they could study for secular degrees in the University of Oxford but an expansion to a new building in Norham Gardens has allowed it to admit female students for the first time.

However, St Benet's still has to raise a few million pounds to buy the new site outright.

The move is another step forward by the Hall's first lay Master, Prof Werner Jeanrond, who was appointed in 2012 to make St Benet's a global centre for learning, teaching and research.

Female postgraduates were admitted under his leadership in 2014.

Prof Jeanrond said: "There have been Benedictine scholars in Oxford since the 13th century but for us to make a contemporary contribution to the Catholic intellectual presence in Oxford, we must move with the times."

Kitchen blaze

STEVENTON: Two fire crews were sent to extinguish a kitchen fire in Steventon, near Didcot, on Tuesday.

Thames Valley Fire Control Service received the call at 9.02am for the fire at the Fuller Way home and sent fire crews from Didcot and Abingdon fire stations.

The firefighters found items left on top on an electric hob had caught fire after it had accidentally been turned on.

The residents were safely evacuated after being alerted by a smoke alarm.

McDonald's attack

ABINGDON: Police are appealing for witnesses after a man suffered bruising after being assaulted in a McDonald's car park on September 10.

The 23-year-old victim and his girlfriend were parked up when two men pulled up alongside them in a car and knocked on his window at around 11am.

An altercation then took place after the victim got out of his car before it was broken up by a member of the public, who police say they are particularly interested in speaking to.

Balloonist honour

OXFORD: The Royal Aeronautical Society have celebrated an Oxford man who was the second person to achieve flight in England in a hot-air balloon with a plaque at Oxford Town Hall.

The commemoration of James Sadler's flight at Christ Church Meadow on October 4, 1784, also marked the society's 150th anniversary on Tuesday.

Sadler, a technician at the University's chemistry laboratory, is said to have risen to a height of 3,600ft in the balloon, coming down at Woodeaton.

Appeal on attack

OXFORD: Police are appealing for witnesses to a suspected incident of GBH after a 29-year-old man was assaulted in Cornmarket Street.

The victim was heading towards Ship Street when he was assaulted by a man walking in the opposite direction on Sunday, September 25, at 1.45am. He was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital.

A 31 year-old man from Durham has since been arrested on suspicion of GBH and was released on bail until November 6.

Schoolgirl died when driver lost control using mobile Running to remember Liberty

PAUL and Maureen Baker are to run the Vitality Oxford Half Marathon this weekend in memory of their daughter Liberty who was killed by a reckless driver in 2014.

Witney schoolgirl Liberty Baker died when Robert Blackwell, then 19, lost control of his car while using his mobile phone and collided with the 14-year-old and three other pupils in Curbridge Road.

Mr Baker said: "Since Liberty was killed, we've been on a journey of grief, losing your child is the hardest thing you will ever face."

Liberty died soon after being taken to hospital, while the others suffered serious and minor injuries. Now her parents, along with a 17-strong team from Oxfordshire, are to run in Saturday's event to raise money in Liberty's memory - she would have celebrated her 17th birthday this month.

Team Liberty consists of friends and family with a few first-time half-marathon runners all raising money for charities; Thames Valley Air Ambulance, Seesaw Child Bereavement and CHAT (Children Hospices Art).

By George Welch

through Libfest, a day live music festival, a 5k fun run and other activities, all with a road safety message.

To date, Mr and Mrs Baker have helped raise £25,000 for charities.

Family friend Brigid Greaney said: "The whole team is working hard to raise as much money as we can and we can't wait to cross the finish line knowing we have helped the family."

The family recently backed Government plans for tougher sanctions for drivers using mobile phones at the wheel.

Ministers plan to double the punishment to six penalty points and a £200 fine.

New drivers would also lose their licence the first time they were caught using a mobile phone.

"Family and friends suggested light jogging during our darkest days, which made us feel more focused almost immediately and helped through the fog of grief.

"Soon afterwards we entered a 5k, 10k and half marathons including the Vitality Oxford Half Marathon 2015 - the races help us focus on something other than our grief."

Calls for TV debate ahead of hustings for by-election

by West Oxfordshire district councillor Mrs Leffman.

Speaking outside the Witney Community Hospital, she told the Guardian: "Absolutely, I really do [support the idea of a television debate]. We need to get people telling us the truth about what's going on here and hearing what the leaders of the Labour Party and the Conservative Party actually believe and what they really want.

"Until we have that debate, people don't know what the outcome is going to look like."

In response, Labour candidate Duncan Enright said: "Voters in Witney want to hear about local issues, from the candidates who are standing to be their voice in Parliament.

"They don't want to be the subjects of yet another attention-seeking wheeze concocted by Tim Farron and the Westminster Lib Dems to breathe life into their party.

"When the Lib Dems were in Government, they supported the Tories' top-down reorganisation of the NHS which led to the problems we now see in Deer Park and Horton Hospital, waved through cuts to vital local services and did nothing to invest in West Oxfordshire's roads and infrastructure."

A hustings event with the main candidates will be held at Charlbury on October 13. Mrs Leffman, who said she was "surprised" by Mr Cameron's departure as Witney's MP, told the Guardian she saw the issues of Brexit, social housing and medical services as Witney's primary problems.

She said: "I know this area extremely well and I have a really good handle on the issues that face people."

Tory candidate Robert Courts had not replied to the Guardian's request for his view on a TV debate at the time of going to press.

■ Nominations closed last week. There are 14 candidates: Amelia Arno (One Love Party), David Bishop (Bus-Pass Elvis Party), Mad Hatter (Official Monster Raving Loony Party), Lord Toby Jug (The Eccentric Party of Great Britain), Adam Knight (independent), Helen Salisbury (National Health Action Party), Daniel Skidmore (independent), Nicholas Ward (independent).

Plants on offer

WITNEY: Witney residents are being offered free plants after the town council had the flowers removed from a large rectangular raised bed in Welch Way removed on Wednesday last week.

They are available to the public to take from a depot at the Leys, next to the Coffee Shed. The plants are free of charge but residents are encouraged to make a donation to The Mayor's charity Ditto.

New ale

HOOK NORTON: A new seasonal ale has sailed out of Hook Norton Brewery.

The 5.3 per cent Flagship ale is, according to the brewery, a strong and zesty Indian Pale Ale style of beer, full bodied with Admiral hops to give it a fruity mouth feel.

Staying open

WITNEY: The town's Deer Park Medical Centre is to remain open until March 2017.

The Guardian reported on September 22 that the Edington Square-based medical centre was to close on November 3 after it was announced that the care providers, Virgin Care, had been unsuccessful in securing a new contract.

But at a Patients Forum meeting at Ceewood Hall last week, it was confirmed by the Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group that the surgery, which looks after 4,400 patients, would remain open until then.

Hudspeth: A34 is 'not fit for purpose'

URGENT safety changes to the A34 are being called for after claims that the road is "not fit for purpose".

It comes following the second meeting of the A34 Action Group, held at Chilton Village Hall, near Didcot, on Monday night.

The aim of the group is to put pressure on transport chiefs so safety changes are made to the road, in the wake of the horrific eight-vehicle crash just over the border in Berkshire in August in which a mother and three children were killed.

And speaking after the meeting, Oxfordshire County Council leader Ian Hudspeth said that short-term improvements to the road were needed as well as a long-term plan.

He said: "What we're going to try and do is distil it down to what can be done in the short-term and get some quick fixes that might assist in preventing these awful tragedies."

"We're providing some additional funding for additional slips at junctions and getting them up to the standard that's required." about the work he and Wantage MP Ed Vaizey and Oxford West and Abingdon MP Nicola Blackwood were doing in parliament.

"But we've also got to have a long-term vision because the road is not fit for purpose in taking over 100,000 vehicles a day."

"Also things like the lorry park we're proposing, if we've got that, do we need laybys? If we could remove the laybys, perhaps we could put some lanes in there as a hard shoulder when there is a knock."

Newbury MP Richard Benyon also spoke during the meeting about the work he and Wantage MP Ed Vaizey and Oxford West and Abingdon MP Nicola Blackwood were doing in parliament.

They are looking to secure a debate on the A34 with the aim of getting a commitment from Government for safety changes.

Speakers from Thames Valley Police and the Roads Haulage Association talked about how safety could be improved through infrastructure and by improving driving standards.

Some of these ideas included speed cameras on certain parts of the road, and building a crawler lane for slower moving vehicles such as lorries and farm traffic.

Alisdair Cunningham, one of the founders of the action group, said: "In terms of the next steps we need to understand if Highways England are at a point where they want to discuss positive short-term changes and what they are going to be, and what place does the public forum have in that."

Highways England has previously said safety was its "top priority" and it is "commissioning a range of research projects to further improve road safety".

Student veggies stir up debate

STUDENTS at Oxford University are launching their own 'Norrrington Table', based on the quality of their vegetarian food, amidst claims that its provision for vegetarians is below-par.

The initiative is being organised by the Oxford University Animal Ethics Society to rank colleges to determine the best ones for vegetarian meals.

Vegetarian and vegan members of the University are being invited to vote on its online poll to rank its colleges in a format similar to the college ranking system known as the Norrrington Table.

President of the Society, Tobias Thornes of Oriel College, said "Many members of the Society have expressed concern about the varying provision of vegetarian and vegan food. We want to put the need for good quality vegetarian food on the agenda in Oxford."

Voting is open to members of the university via the website www.veggienorrringtontable.com during this term.

College bursars will be invited to supply sample menus and indicate whether they have chefs trained in vegetarian and vegan food.

The Society's Senior Member, the Revd Professor Andrew Linzey, said: "Oxford is known as a place of excellence, but its vegetarian fare is often barely adequate."

Officers praised for work to catch £1.3m drug gang

POLICE officers have been praised after they helped shut down a prolific drug gang involving a man from Didcot.

Thames Valley Police chief constable Francis Habgood hailed officers at a commendations ceremony on Thursday last week for helping to seize a £1.3m stash of class A and B drugs.

The commendations relate to an operation dating back to January 2015, during which officers began investigating Neil Wadley, 48, of Pound Lane, Didcot, and Arthur De Sousa, 49, from Reading.

Both Wadley and De Sousa were known to have a history of criminality in the Thames Valley area, and were known to be the leaders of organised crime groups.

During the investigation and arrests, police seized more than 9kg of cocaine, 1kg of MDMA powder, 5,000 MDMA ecstasy tablets, 4kg of amphetamine powder, 3kg of methoxetamine and 18kg of cannabis resin.

Lucky escape

STANDLAKE: A woman whose car was packed with belongings as she moved house had a lucky escape veering into a ditch on the A415 on Saturday.

Fire and rescue crews found her trapped inside the wreckage of the overturned car, among belongings which had been thrown around by the impact.

They used hydraulic equipment to remove the items and get the woman out. She suffered only minor injuries.

Chimney fire

STANDLAKE: Firefighters were called to a chimney fire at a thatched cottage in Standlake.

Fire crews from Witney and Bampton contained the blaze at the cottage in High Street at 10.20pm on Saturday.

No-one was injured but an eight foot chimney breast which supported the weight of the stone work above had to be removed.

Xmas card sale

WANTAGE: The Royal National Lifeboat Institution (RNLI) Wantage branch has announced the date of their annual charity Christmas card sale.

The card sale will start on November 7 and will run until November 19 (excluding Sunday) in the Squires Room at the Vale and Downland Museum in Wantage.

The sale of cards will take place from 10am to 4pm daily.

on March 11 last year, after co-operation with Spanish police, Wadley was arrested and flown back to the UK to face charges.

On the same day, another phase of arrests of those involved with this investigation was simultaneously carried out.

Following the conviction of 13 defendants, the group was sentenced to a total of 99 years' imprisonment, with Wadley receiving a 17-year prison sentence.

Among the police officers recognised were Det Insp Rachel Wheatman, of the serious organised crime unit, and Kirsty Allman of the Crown Prosecution Service.

Speaking after the ceremony, Ch Con Habgood said: "It always gives me great pleasure to present these commendations."

"They rightfully recognise and praise the dedication, courage and professionalism of those who go beyond their call of duty in often extremely difficult situations."

Wadley smirked as he said 'thank you' to the judge after being given his 17-year sentence in January.

His organisation was found to have used encrypted phones, specified equipment and modified cars in order to peddle the product to Newbury, Reading, Bristol and Somerset.

The HART of good care

A NEW service that aims to deliver high quality care in Oxfordshire patients' own homes or places of residence has been launched.

The new Home Assessment Reablement Team (HART), launched on Saturday, will allow people to leave hospital once their medical needs are stable or to remain at home after a minor accident or illness, rather than being admitted to hospital.

HART is a countywide service that provides a short period of care and support to patients – especially elderly patients – as they regain their independence and confidence in the skills they need to live at home safely.

HART, which was jointly commissioned by Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) and Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group, will be run by Oxford University Hospital NHS Foundation Trust (OUH).

It incorporates and replaces OUH's Supported Hospital Discharge Service (SHDS) and the Oxfordshire Reablement Service, which was run by Oxford Health

NHS Foundation Trust.

Paul Brennan, OUH's director of clinical services, said: "The beauty of HART is that it will be run as a single responsive service, with a single multidisciplinary team, a simple referral process and a single pathway."

"We've reassured patients that the care they receive and their reablement goals will remain the same under this new service."

HART will offer 'reablement' support to both people considered medically fit enough to be discharged from hospital, and those referred in the community, for example, by general practitioners or community hospitals.

Mr Brennan added: "This service is part of our strategy of delivering care to patients in the most appropriate environment for them, working closely with other services, to make sure people are being referred."

Referrals can be made to the HART service by e-mailing orh-tr.hart@nhs.net or by phoning (01865) 572917. More information is available at <http://www.ouh.nhs.uk/hart>.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 25 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.'

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Oxfordshire area from their local depots and manager James Miller agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

News Bites*Attacker jailed

OXFORD: An Oxford man has been sentenced to four years in jail for a sexual assault on a woman in the city.

At Oxford Crown Court on Wednesday last week, Michael White, 31, of Peat Moors, was sent to jail for four years and placed on the Sex Offenders' Register indefinitely.

He had pleaded guilty at the same hearing to one count of sexual assault on a 22-year-old woman.

She was walking along Headington Hill at about 5am on April 13 when White approached her.

White then dragged the victim into a wooded area and sexually assaulted her.

The victim managed to fight off White before running from the scene.

White was arrested and subsequently charged with the offence three days later.

The second protester, known as Joe, said: "I thought it was good that he came and met me. I felt that he could have stayed for the minute's silence but I think people could see that he was visibly uncomfortable."

"I think he clearly knows that he is in a difficult situation and he needs to dig his way out."

In response, the Bishop has stated: "I accept that Michael does not feel he received the appropriate support and action in 2013. I regret this and I am committed to exploring what happened further with him and the National Safeguarding Team."

A statement from the Dean of Christ Church said: "We take safeguarding very seriously. We fully recognise the importance of listening to survivors of sexual abuse."

Bishop Steven became the Bishop of the Oxford Diocese, which covers the Thames Valley area, and is one of the largest seats in the Church of England with 815 parishes.

He was inaugurated at the cathedral after a procession through the city centre, led by clergy from the University of Oxford and city dignitaries, including Lord Mayor Mohamed Altaf-Khan.

Talking of his appointment, Bishop Steven said: "I am very humbled to be made Bishop of Oxford, and I'm sure that the experience will be stretching and will require all the love and prayers of those who support me. I hope it will be the beginning of a great period of my life and of the diocese."

He said his three initial priorities in the role were to engage with young people, ensure the wealth in the area was spread equally and to "ensure that all Christians in the diocese are able to live a full Christian life".

More than 700 guests, including faith leaders and the Lord Lieutenants of the three counties, attended the ceremony.

Fare-dodging barrister is sacked from profession for £19,000 scam

A BARRISTER who dodged up to £19,000 worth of rail fares from Oxfordshire to London has been sacked from his profession.

Oxford graduate Dr Peter Barnett was convicted in September 2015 of six offences of fraud when he evaded paying rail fares in and out of Marylebone Station between April 1, 2012 and November 24, 2014.

Dr Barnett commuted 40 miles into London from Haddenham and Thame Parkway every day, but he did not purchase the appropriate ticket, which costs £19.80 each way.

Instead, he would touch out at Marylebone with his Oyster card, costing him £7.60.

Dr Barnett was officially disbarred by the Bar Standards Board on Monday last week, following charges brought by the Bar regulator.

A board spokesman said: "Dishonest conduct is incompatible with membership of the Bar. The tribunal's decision to disbar Dr Barnett reflects this."

Dr Barnett has never held a practising certificate as a barrister in England and Wales but was called to the Bar by Lincoln's Inn in 2007.

OXFORD: A new study by Oxford University has found that 1 in 10 children with HIV can become resistant to the infection, providing a potential pathway for new treatments.

Lights switched on as work nears end

WORK on two major roundabouts on the A40 in north Oxford is nearing completion after the traffic lights on Cutteslowe roundabout were switched on last week.

The lights at the nearby Wolvercote roundabout went live a couple of weeks ago.

The work on the two roundabouts will mean both junctions become traffic light-controlled, with approaches widened and new pedestrian and cycle crossings.

Transport bosses said the scheme would improve traffic flows and help meet the demand from developments, such as the Northern Gateway business park at Wolvercote.

The new lights will be monitored as traffic flows return to normal levels, drivers get used to the new layouts and the arrangements bed in.

But the council says it might take time for the benefits of the computer-controlled traffic lights, extra lanes and other measures to take effect.

Last week's switch-on marked the completion of most of the work that people travelling through the area will notice

By George Welch

— only minor work needs to be done over the next few weeks.

The work, which started in July 2015, is estimated to cost between £9m and £10m.

County councillor David Nimmo Smith, cabinet member for transport, said: "After a great deal of hard work, we are now at the stage where motorists, cyclists and pedestrians can consider work is finished.

"I would like to thank all those who have experienced inconvenience during the work including residents and drivers."

He added: "Hopefully now all will start to see the benefits of the work we've done as the digging and construction becomes a distant memory."

"I would also like to pay tribute to the team who delivered this scheme. It was a massive challenge to do all this work in such a constrained area while all the major routes were open to normal traffic.

"People will obviously notice a difference once all the cones go and the lights are up and running.

* County councillors David Nimmo Smith and Jean Fooks prepare for the traffic lights switch on Nigel Tipple, chief executive of the Oxfordshire Local Enterprise Partnership (OXLEP), which helped unlock central government funding for the project, said: "We are delighted to see the works completed ahead of schedule and on budget."

1,000 torch relay to run through Oxfordshire

OXFORDSHIRE runners are being urged to take part in a nationwide relay run this month as part of a nationwide Run4Peace 2016 run.

The torch relay will pass through Oxfordshire and cover 1,000km in just 10 days between October 21 and October 31 to help raise funds to establish a school for peace in northern Kenya.

In a 30-second video featuring Kenyan running legend Wilson Kipsang, record-breaking ultra runners Adam Holland and Rob Young are urging people to join them for next month's nationwide Run4Peace 2016.

Each day will see 10 10km stretches completed.

The first two 10km stretches in Oxfordshire on October 29 will go from Abingdon to Hinksey Park, before heading to Ferry Leisure Centre in Summertown via a detour through Port Meadow and Burgess Field.

October 30 will feature five 10km stretches involving the county, setting off from the Iffley Road running track in Oxford and finishing in Henley, going via Nuneham Courtenay, Benson and Nuffield.

Rosetta spacecraft crash-lands on comet to end £1bn mission

• Comet 67P and the last image to be taken by Rosetta, inset.
All pictures courtesy of @ESA_Rosetta

EUROPE'S Rosetta probe has ended its mission to Comet 67P by crash-landing on to the icy surface of the celestial object.

Controllers at the European Space Agency (ESA), which is based on Harwell Science Campus near Didcot, burst into applause when the crunch ending to the £1 billion mission was confirmed at 12.20pm UK time on Friday.

Mission control in Darmstadt, Germany, was able to confirm the impact had occurred when radio contact with the ageing spacecraft was lost abruptly.

The probe was deliberately crashed on the assumption that it would have been damaged beyond use. Rosetta had arrived at 67P in August 2014 following a 10-year-long journey from Earth.

In the time it has lived alongside the mountainous object, it has studied its behaviour, structure and chemistry.

Rosetta dropped a small robot called Philae on to the surface in November 2014 to gather additional information – marking a historic first in the field of space exploration.

The European Space Agency said the mission has been an outstanding success and would transform its understanding of the huge icy dirt-balls that circled planets.

Angus Horner, director at Harwell Campus, said: "Today [Friday] is the culmination of a historic mission, marking the end of 12 years of data collection that will provide us with new insights into physics and astrology."

"We are privileged to have such a direct connection to Rosetta here at Harwell Campus, and it is a real badge of honour that so many of those who carried out this mission are based here."

In the hours before the planned collision, Rosetta sent back a host of high-resolution pictures and other measurements of the icy dirt-ball.

It took about 116,000 images during its 12-year mission to track the comet.

Views sought on plans to tackle parking issues

RESIDENTS and businesses in Bicester are being urged to have their say over proposals to introduce 'no waiting' restrictions in problem areas across the town.

Oxfordshire County Council hopes the plans will tackle long-running parking issues in residential streets.

The council wants to implement 'no waiting' restrictions in dozens of hot-spots, including Bernwood Road, the junctions of Woodfield Road, Brashfield Road and Taylor Close with Blake Road, the Bucknell Road/Field Street junction to Stoneburge Crescent, Granville Way, Hunt Close, Kings Avenue,

By Samantha McGregor

Mallards Way, Sheep Street and Woodfield Road.

Commuters have caused problems for residents in Woodfield and Brashfield roads for years because of their proximity to Bicester North Station. People working at Talisman Business Centre have also been parking along both sides of Mallards Way because there are not enough car spaces at the business park.

A county council report said: "A consultation has been launched into proposals to tackle parking problems on a number of residential roads in Bicester."

"Concerns have been raised relating to parking problems caused by non-residents on roads in Bicester."

"In response, the county council is proposing the introduction of localised 'no waiting' restrictions to prevent obstruction and ensure the way remains clear for larger vehicles."

A range of measures are due to be put in place to target the problems in the different areas. These include double-yellow lines, no waiting from 8am to 6pm Monday to Saturday, as well as no waiting for an hour, Monday to Friday, in a bid to prevent town-centre workers parking in residential roads.

The council's cabinet member for transport, David Nimmo Smith, said: "I would like to urge people to see what is being proposed and have their say now."

"I am glad the county council is looking at measures which could help solve a longstanding problem for Bicester residents and it will be good to hear direct from them before making a decision."

People have until October 21 to have their say.

Any objections are due to be taken to cabinet member decisions on November 24. If the proposals are approved, the changes are expected to be implemented within this financial year.

Lucky escape

CHIPPING NORTON: A driver had a lucky escape when their car crashed into The Greedy Goose pub on the A44 between Chipping Norton and Moreton-in-Marsh.

The impact of the crash caused the displacement of the external wall into the kitchen, but the driver walked away with just bruising and no-one else was injured in the incident at 8.40pm on Friday.

Fire station manager Dave Bray, who attended the incident, said: "The driver had a very lucky escape, managing to avoid serious injury having driven into a substantial stone-built building."

Bookings open

N OXON: Lines are open to book a place on Cherwell District Council's half-term break activity hub.

The holiday programme is open to children aged five to 15 and is held at North Oxfordshire Academy in Banbury and Cooper School in Bicester during the week beginning Monday 24 October.

Activities lined up include painting, trampolining and archery.

Short day sessions, from 8.45am until 3pm, cost £14.95, while full days, from 8.45am to 5pm cost £18.95. For more information, call 01295 221803.

Man's body found

BANBURY: The body of a man has been found after a police search of woods in the Tadmarton area.

Police said they did not believe there were any suspicious circumstances surrounding the man's death and a file was being prepared for the coroner.

Formal identification has not taken place but the body is believed to be that of Adam Standing, 38, who went missing last Sunday evening.

His next of kin have been informed.

Karen said they wanted to help

"a very good cause".

She said: "We've raised £350 so far, with leftover cake and tombola items still being sold. We have been amazed at the generosity of people. It was a really enjoyable and successful day."

Kizzy said: "Thank you so much to everyone who came and supported our Macmillan coffee morning."

"It was a great success, everyone dug deep and reduced me to tears when we counted up the donations."

Local firm British Bakels, of Granville Way, Bicester, also donated cakes to the sale.

The women are planning a second coffee morning to raise money for a dementia charity.

University's medical and health training named the world's best

MEDICAL and health teaching and research at Oxford University has been ranked as the world's best for the sixth year running in the Times Higher Education World University Rankings.

The news follows Oxford University being named as the best university in the world by the same publication last month.

And the discipline-specific tables, released last Thursday, confirmed the university's status as the best in the world for medical and health teaching, meaning the university has won the accolade every year since 2011.

Professor Alastair Buchan, dean of medicine and head of the medical sciences division at Oxford University, said: "We are delighted to have come first in clinical, pre-clinical and health subjects for the sixth year running."

The university said a key to the division's success was its close partnership with the NHS in Oxfordshire.

Harvard University was ranked as the second best and Oxford's Oxbridge rival, Cambridge University, rounded off the top three.

Sarah's pedal power boosts Skye charity

A MOTHER-of-two has raised more than £700 for Blue Skye Thinking with a London-to-Brighton bike ride.

Sarah Brockbank-Gash, 46, undertook the challenge after meeting charity founder Sally Hall, whose son Skye died in 2014 as a result of side-effects of his treatment for a brain tumour at the age of five.

By Dominic Thomas

The two mums had children at the same nursery.

Sally set up the charity and is running the Aim Skye High appeal in memory of Skye and hopes to raise £50,000 to fund a research position into child brain cancers at the Northern Institute of Cancer Research.

Sarah, who completed the ride on September 11, said: "My daughter Coco was at Long Fur-long nursery school in Abingdon with Skye, so I obviously got to know Sally, Skye and her other son, Jesse, over time.

"I was devastated to hear through a friend that Skye had been diagnosed with a Medulloblastoma not long after the children left nursery, and it was so heart-breaking when we heard that he sadly passed away the following year.

"Having children myself, Skye's death affected me greatly, as I just couldn't imagine how one could cope with losing a child like Andrew and Sally had to.

"I love cycling and thought that doing the London-to-Brighton would be a wonderful opportunity to raise money for their charity."

She said although it was difficult, she enjoyed the challenge after finishing the course in just under five hours.

"It was an extremely tranquil ride, going through London so early in the morning.

"I absolutely loved zooming down many hills on the way but the big one, Ditchling Hill, was the most difficult thing I have ever done!"

Sarah has so far raised £715 for the appeal, which encourages people to come up with fundraising ideas that are a little crazy, a touch unconventional, original and creative.

Sally said: "We are grateful to Sarah for supporting our appeal.

"The ride was 54 miles and as Sarah said the very steep Ditchling Hill towards the end, would have challenged both the mind and the muscles, so very much in line with the ethos of 'Aim Skye High'.

To support Sarah, visit: www.justgiving.com/fundraising/sarah-brockbank-gash

OXON: MP for Wantage and Didcot Ed Vaizey has voiced his concerns over the recently announced delay to the Oxfordshire Healthcare Transformation Consultation.

It was due to start in October and has been pushed back to the end of December or beginning of January.

Tools on hand to quit smoking
during Stoptober

PEOPLE across Oxfordshire are being encouraged to quit smoking as part of Stoptober, a government led 28-day quitting challenge.

The Public Health England initiative which launched on Saturday claims if you stop smoking for 28 days you are five times more likely to quit for good.

Oxfordshire County Council's public health department is encouraging smokers to pledge to quit. Cabinet member for public health, Councillor Hilary Hibbert-Biles, said: "Smoking remains the leading cause of preventable death in the UK and contributes to around 100,000 deaths each year."

"We're supporting Stoptober because it's vital we encourage Oxfordshire residents to make healthy choices."

Smokefreelife Oxfordshire, a stop smoking service commissioned by the council, will be on hand to help smokers quit.

Oxford City Council have teamed up with the Smoking Cessation Team to run support sessions in Barton, Blackbird Leys and Rose Hill this month.

Hospice founder is honoured for his contribution

THE founder of a hospice that has played a vital role in many people's lives across North Oxfordshire has been honoured for his work.

Neil Gadsby founded Katharine House Hospice at Adderbury, near Banbury, in memory of his daughter Katharine, who died aged 20 from cancer in 1984.

He was chairman until February and is now the hospice's president.

Last week, Mr Gadsby, 80, was recognised for his work by Banbury Town Council.

Town mayor Gordon Ross presented him with an ornamental scroll as a tribute to his 25 years of service to the charity.

Mr Ross said: "Katharine House is a remarkable place and this tribute is much deserved.

"It is this council's way of saying thank you on behalf of townspeople and all those whose lives have been touched by the hospice."

In 2011, Mr Gadsby was awarded an MBE for services to the hospice,

By Samantha McGregor

which marked its 25th anniversary in February.

Council leader Kieron Mallon said the "presentation recognises that the contribution of his vision to the people of Banbury is immeasurable".

Town councillor Steve Kilby said: "The Katharine House Hospice has been the salvation of many families in Banbury and the surrounding area.

"This tribute to Mr Gadsby is supported by all councillors."

After his daughter's death, Mr Gadsby and a group of friends set out to build a hospice that would care for people with life-limiting illnesses, and after a massive fundraising campaign, Katharine House opened in 1991.

Mr Gadsby is still very much involved with Katharine House, and is hoping to raise £3,000 from the sale of his new book Voices, a collection of stories by local people about what the hospice means to them.

He said: "I accept this certificate on behalf of everyone who has helped the hospice in the last 25 years.

"We are grateful to all those who have assisted and continue to assist the hospice and we look forward to the future."

The award comes as Katharine House launches a new look and a new strategy for the future.

Mr Gadsby said: "The new look reflects what it's like when you walk through the doors of Katharine House. It's friendly and approachable. The new strategy will serve the hospice well as it begins the next 25 years."

French market

THAME: The town will host a French market for three days from Thursday, October 20, to Saturday, October 22.

Classic French food including bread, patisserie, cheese, onions, garlic and olives will be on sale, alongside leather handbags and musical entertainment.

Centre approved

N OXON: Plans to create a heritage centre at a former Cold War US Air Force base have been approved.

Dorchester Group, which owns the site at Upper Heyford, is to convert Building 103, a red-brick building dating from the 1920s and one of the base's earliest buildings, into the centre. It had been used to repair narrowboats.

Plans have also been approved to convert building 315, one of the first open-end air hangers created on the site during the inter-war period, into a storage and distribution centre.

Rally school move

BICESTER: A rally school in Stratton Audley has been given permanent planning permission for the use of quad bikes, buggies and jeeps.

An earlier application by Christopher Wigmore, of Pool Farm, was deferred so Cherwell District Council could undertake an investigation into noise and dust.

The council concluded noise and dust at the site could be reduced by limiting the number of vehicles being raced at a time.

Electric network boosted

BICESTER residents are set to benefit from a £24m investment in the town's electricity network.

Operator Scottish and Southern Electricity Networks is in the final stage of plans to install 18km of underground cable and a new electricity sub-station.

The work is due to start next spring and will expand and improve the network that serves homes and businesses in Bicester, Upper Heyford, Cottisford, Arncott, Headington, Yarnton, and Witney.

It comes as Bicester is expected to have 10,000 new homes built between now and 2031.

The upgrade is essential as the existing electricity infrastructure is nearing its capacity.

Why people choose us.

Keith Donaghy has over 30 years experience in helping thousands of people in Oxfordshire to hear clearly and precisely. There is no satisfactory quick fix when it comes to your hearing health, as claimed by some high street retailers advertising in the media. It takes time and a dedicated, expert hearing aid audiologist to help you hear well again.

Keith Donaghy Hearingcare is a full time dedicated hearing aid clinic. We are purely hearing care specialists (nothing more, nothing less), unlike some other branded retailers which are chemists or opticians and who have limited access to hearing aid manufacturers. As we are a completely independent hearing aid clinic we are not tied financially, or in any other way, to any particular hearing aid manufacturer therefore we can provide the best system for each client. We can also prescribe the latest brand new technology immediately it becomes available and many of our clients return to us for upgrades keeping their hearing ability in tip top condition continuously.

Good clear hearing is what everybody wants and a fully trained, experienced and independent hearing aid audiologist can help you achieve the best from a new hearing system.

At Keith Donaghy Hearing care all patients receive a full aftercare programme with help, advice, rehabilitation and retuning of your hearing aid system so that you are always hearing clearly.

A hearing aid is only as good as the audiologist prescribing and programming it.

Exceptional Hearing Aids From Widex –Available At Keith Donaghy Hearingcare

At Widex, we combine years of understanding with a natural curiosity in finding solutions to individual hearing loss. Our uncompromising approach to innovation has led to such advances as the world's first digital in-the-ear hearing aid, as well as our own revolutionary wireless technology.

However, hearing aids are more than the technology inside them. Not only should they help people hear better, they should be comfortable and easy to wear. We concentrate just as much on design of hearing aids as on technology to create a near-natural hearing experience.

“WIDEX MAKES THE BEST HEARING AIDS. IT'S THAT SIMPLE”

Try Widex Unique Hearing Aids At Keith Donaghy Hearingcare

Unique is the exceptional hearing aid from Widex.

With Unique, you get a much richer and well-rounded sound; and you can enjoy louder sounds with comfort, such as the cheering of a crowd at a football match or the sudden sound changes when watching a film.

Widex believe that all hearing aids should give you the ability to understand speech. Speech understanding is often compromised in noisy environments, but new technology that preserves the human voice means that with Unique you can actively enjoy conversations, whether you're in a crowded restaurant with family or at a noisy concert with friends.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a  $9 \times 9$  grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine  $3 \times 3$  sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

RICS call for the Government to reverse stamp-duty surcharge

Bill Cooper, co-author of The Oxford Property Blog and Managing Director of Martin and Co Oxford

THE Royal Institute of Chartered Surveyors (RICS) forecasts that more than 1.8m households will be looking to rent across the country by 2025. Between 2001 and 2014, the number of UK households renting rose from 2.3m to 5.4m households.

Oxford is widely recognised as the least affordable place in the UK, with house prices at the lower end of the market being 10 times average earnings of the city's residents, and overall prices being over 15 times the average salary, according to an Oxford University Study in 2015.

Not surprisingly, that means demand for rented properties in Oxford is amongst the highest in the country with over 28% of households renting in the private rented sector, compared to just over 17% nationally. That equates to some 16,000 households.

RICS recognises that as a result of the increasing demand for rental properties, it is vital that the Government changes its focus from supporting and encouraging house ownership, to encouraging a greater supply of private rental properties. It specifically supports my own call for more property to be built specifically for purchase by landlords increasing the supply of available rental properties.

RICS also agrees with views I have expressed over recent months, that the new Prime Minister should reverse the stamp duty surcharge imposed on landlords, pointing to the fact that 86% of landlords' state they have no plans to expand their portfolio of properties since the surcharge was introduced.

In Oxford, this is more pressing than just about anywhere else in the UK. House prices have risen steeply over the last 10 years and continue to offer average annual increases of 5.8% according to the latest LendInvest index. This is reducing the rental yield that landlords can achieve on many properties to less than 5% per annum. When coupled with the additional stamp duty burden (an apartment costing £390,000 has a stamp duty charge of £21,200 for a buy-to-let landlord), this can result in negative investment returns for the initial 2- to 3-year period of ownership.

Where the landlord is additionally borrowing to purchase the property, with recent HMRC legislation removing the ability for debt interest to be offset, for many landlords the risk of investment is now too great.

Through its continued focus on home ownership and a mistaken belief that penalising landlords would free up more property for home ownership, the Government has failed to recognise that the affordability gap between property prices and average earnings means that they will simply reduce the supply of affordable homes for households who wish to rent, exacerbating the already critical under-supply of homes.

Ultimately more homes need to be built and built quickly at numbers not previously achieved. However, in Oxford particularly, many new homes should target purchase by private landlords, increasing the supply of modern affordable rental properties. In Oxford, the fastest growth in terms of housing supply has been purpose-built apartments, where close to 15,000 households now reside. Expansion of purpose-built apartments is critical if Oxford is to keep growing and offering great homes to its vibrant and young population.

New app set to help landlords

IT'S sometimes hard to remember a world before the Internet – a fact exacerbated with the ubiquity of smartphones.

Consequently, the days when mobile connectivity was limited to entertainment and fun are over and whilst Pokémon Go and Candy Crush still account for significant smartphone use, many apps are now focused on making lives and business more efficient.

But what does this mean for the property market? Take Rightmove. Established in 2000, it's now one of the UK's top 10 busiest websites and its app is within the top 150 of a market place that is larger than perhaps anyone can measure. We know that 90% of property transactions start online and at Andrews 60% of our online interactions originate from mobile devices – that's up from 3% just five years ago.

Andrews' website, re-launched earlier this year, is optimised to make it as impactful on a phone or tablet as it is on a laptop or desktop computer. When it was relaunched, Andrews added a mobile app to its digital offering and has just unveiled the latest update of that which is aimed directly at the lettings market.

Landlords don't always receive the best press and whilst this is sometimes justified, we know by working with many thousands of them that they're mostly pretty decent people.

They come in very different shapes and sizes. What unites them, though, is the fact that time isn't plentiful.

That is where the My Andrews app steps in. Available on both iOS and Android, it provides landlords with the ability to view each property which they let via My Andrews. It includes details of the agent responsible for each let; access to all tenancy and rental income information; and the ability to keep up to date with new applicants when re-letting a property.

My Andrews means that landlords have everything they need to manage their rental portfolio quite literally in the palm of their hand.

Rate drop boosts buy-to-let sector

SIGNIFICANT reductions in mortgage rates have made the buy-to-let sector more attractive than ever to investors.

New statistics from Moneyfacts.co.uk show an average five-year fixed rate mortgage for a 75 per cent loan-to-value deal has dropped to 3.96 per cent, the first time it has fallen below four per cent.

It means the rate on this type of mortgage – popular with many buy-to-let investors – is now 0.49 per cent lower than it was six months ago.

Allison Thompson, managing director at property specialist Leaders, says: "The cost of borrowing for investors has fallen considerably in recent months, meaning many landlords will be able to enjoy a much greater return from their property portfolio. With lower mortgage costs and the trend for longer tenancies, buy-to-let remains not only the best-performing investment type in the UK, but also a secure long-term option.

"Of course, there are other costs to consider when investing in property, such as agent fees, stamp duty and ongoing maintenance, but mortgage repayments will be the primary expense for many investors, so such sizeable reductions in rates is extremely good news."

The research found buy-to-let mortgages with all loan-to-value ratios have reached their lowest point in history in the last month. An average five-year fixed rate of just 3.48 per cent is available to those with a loan-to-value of 60 per cent, down from 3.61 per cent in August and 3.73 per cent in March.

Allison adds: "Current mortgage rates have created a golden opportunity for investors looking to enter the buy-to-let market and benefit from a return that far exceeds those delivered by other investment options such as stocks and shares."

"However, it is still important to seek expert advice on what to buy, where to buy and the likely rental return of a property. This will help investors to do all the sums required in advance to work out exactly what they stand to gain by buying to let."

Cotswold Agents Bring Home Gold

Two Martin & Co Offices have won the title of 'Best Agent' in their respective areas.

The Cirencester and Witney branches have been recognised for their outstanding performance by The British Property Awards.

The Awards pride themselves on judging agents at a local level to ensure the public are provided with a rounded overview of their local market.

Brendan Kay, Director of both Martin & Co Cirencester and Witney, explained what the awards mean to the offices, "Winning the British Property Awards has been an enormous boost for the team. We work extremely hard to raise standards and deliver excellence – something we're absolutely delighted that this independently judged award has recognised."

Brendan continued, "We were particularly pleased that, as part of the award mystery shopping test, our apprentice was singled out for individual praise!"

The offices appear to be going from strength to strength, with Cirencester having been selected to sell and let a brand new development of executive flats close to the town centre as well as boasting a perfect student let success rate, "We've once again managed to let all of our student properties for this academic year and we're well underway for planning our marketing campaign for the 17/18 academic year – there's nothing like forward planning!"

Describing the success of Martin & Co Witney, Brendan said, "We've recently sold a plot for development into flats and have retained our position as the number 1 letting agent in the town (according to Rightmove)."

The Awards are designed to highlight and reward excellent performance both across the property industry and at a local level. The awarding body judge against a set of 25 criteria, each with a different weighting depending on the area.

Brendan was joined by his wife Lisa, at a ceremony at Banking Hall in London where Martin Roberts of Homes Under the Hammer presented their awards.

Introducing Fay Hield and The Hurricane Party

AFTER a stellar performance at Banbury's Mill Arts Centre in April, Fay Hield and The Hurricane Party are returning to the county on Friday, October 14.

The musician and her trusty band will be performing at the Quaker Meeting House in St Giles', Oxford, as part of her small UK tour.

The singer-songwriter is used to a solo stage, but she will be joined by The Hurricane Party made up of Rob Harbron (English Concertina, fiddle, vocals), Sam Sweeney (fiddle, viola, cello, nyckelharpa, vocals), Roger Wilson (fiddle, guitar, mandolin and vocals), Ben Nicholls (Bass) and Toby Kearney (Percussion).

"Folk songs are made to be heard over and over again – and many audiences have known some of these songs for years, sung by many different artists," she told the Guardian.

"I like bringing fresh approaches to these old songs, and also digging up new old songs that they might be less familiar with."

"It is great to stretch those who know this music well, but it is also really

By James Richings

accessible for anyone who's new to folk music, as each song tells its own story.

"It is lovely just hearing people enjoy the songs and singing along."

The musician arrives off the back of the release of her fourth studio album, 'Old Adam', which has had rave reviews from critics and fans.

But the success didn't start there – the singer-songwriter won two prizes at the 2014 BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards.

Previous albums 'Looking Glass' (2010) and 'Orfeo' (2012) proved big hits, and Fay is optimistic her newest will follow suit.

She shared some pearls of wisdom for aspiring musicians: "Aim high and take risks. Take gigs you don't think you're ready for and work hard to pull them off."

She added: "A lot of it is admin and management, so don't wait for things to come to you, go and ask that bass player to join your band, book yourself a gig, go out and make it happen."

Tickets cost £14, £10 for concessions and the gig will start at 8pm.

Gigging Til Dawn

TUNES from the likes of Foo Fighters, Black Keys, Royal Blood, Arctic Monkeys, Muse, Kings Of Leon and many more will be blasted out of The Bell when Banbury-based covers band Til Dawn arrive at the town's Bell pub on Saturday, October 15.

The group is made up of Dean Tuckey on vocals and guitar, Dan Boscott on guitar, Steve Sharpe as the drummer and bassist Paul Gibson.

"We play a good mix of well known modern rock covers but we also like to go off the beaten track, adding a unique twist of our own individual tastes," Dan said.

"And our aim is to introduce people to new artists and songs so we love playing live."

"We like to feed off the audience and have a few tricks up our sleeve to get them up and keep them going 'Til Dawn'."

On writing and recording their own material, Dan told the Guardian: "We haven't done it yet but we are in the process of writing our own material."

He urges fans to keep a look out for any new releases and follow them on tildawn.co.uk.

The gig at the High Street venue is free and starts at 9pm.

Family drama played out

THAT transition you make from teenager to adulthood is never easy.

But what happens when you are struggling to express yourself beyond your parents' love and expectations?

Find out when the popular play, 'Things I Know to be True' visits the Oxford Playhouse.

The play, written by Australian playwright Andrew Bovell, started its run of seven shows at the Beaumont Street venue on Tuesday, with the last performance being on Saturday.

It looks at the life of four grown siblings, who find it difficult to find their place in society due to their parents' prospects.

For Natalie Casey, who plays Pip Price, the chance to play a character who shows raw emotion was too good to turn down.

She said: "My character is the second oldest child in a family of four and I take the decision to entirely change my life.

"I am married with children, and I feel that my marriage isn't going very well. So I decide to change my life and leave my husband and children for a new job and more exciting personal opportunities."

Natalie added: "The complexity of the writing drew me to the play.

"It's about a family and the physical

By James Richings

aspect means that in a rehearsal room, you are so close to the people you are working with. That's a very rare thing.

"And I think a lot of family dramas are people standing in a set that looks like a kitchen, shouting at each other, and this is an entirely different thing altogether – a very, very complex piece of work."

Prior to her success on stage, 36-year-old Natalie is best known for portraying Donna Henshaw in the popular TV sitcom 'Two Pints of Lager and a Packet of Crisps', and as Carol Groves in the Channel 4 soap opera 'Hollyoaks' from 1996 to 2000.

But, following her switch from TV work to the stage, the actress is looking forward to visiting theatres in Liverpool, Chichester, Salford and Coventry as the show follows a short tour across the UK this autumn.

So with all the travelling on her schedule, Natalie revealed her own pre-show ritual that 'gets her in the mood' to perform.

"When it's the press night, people get very, very nervous, and I'm very susceptible to picking up other people's emotions.

"So I like to just spend a little bit of time on my own.

* 'Things I Know to be True' will be at the Oxford Playhouse until Saturday, October 8 (Photo by Michael Harlan)

"I like to go and stand at the side for a little bit, on my own, get my mind together, go on and do it.

"I'm a big gangsta rap fan, (I'm not making that up, it is true), so I listen to some of that before I go on stage.

"It really gets you in the mood."

Tickets for the play cost from £11.50 to £27. For further information, call the box office on 01865 305305 or visit the theatre's website at: www.oxfordplayhouse.com.

Indie-folk group to play at The Cellar

THE sound of Canadian indie-folk will echo around The Cellar when Folly and the Hunter visit the Frewin Centre in Oxford on Sunday, October 9.

The band, comprising Nick Vallee, Laurie Torres, Christopher Fox and Phil Creamer, was formed in 2008 and, following the release of their debut album three years later, is becoming a popular name in the folk world.

It's their first visit to The Cellar, with the group hoping it will be a show to remember as they travel the country to promote their new album 'Awake.'

Nick said: "The best thing about performing is to know that you are connecting meaningfully with other people.

"To me, music is pretty meaningless in a vacuum.

"There needs to be that human connection for the music to have an impact, and the fact that you are having an emotional impact on others is the best feeling."

The band will also play venues in Liverpool, Manchester and London before travelling to mainland Europe for a series of gigs.

Doors for the Oxford gig open at 7.30pm and tickets cost £7.

Faustus folk up Nettlebed

MUSICAL ensemble Faustus will make their bow at Nettlebed Folk Club on Monday, October 10, following the release of their new album, 'Death & Other Animals'.

The trio consists of Saul Rose, a former member of folk group Waterson:Carthy, and Paul Sartin and Benji Kirkpatrick, best known as Bellowhead band members.

After meeting through mutual friends in the mid-2000s, Paul formed the group in 2006 after a quartet he was in disbanded.

"We try to get the audience involved as early on as possible, and break down the barrier between 'us' and 'them,'" Paul told the Guardian.

"That's one of the strengths of folk music and in particular chorus songs – if they appreciate the gig, we feel we've achieved that aim and that it's a job well done."

"Our repertoire consists of mainly traditional English folk music. Songs about love gone wrong, grisly murder ballads, saucy sea shanties, dark humour, and some jolly tunes."

By James Richings

In the last 10 years the group has released three albums, including 'Broken Down Gentleman', which was released in 2013.

The three friends are on a UK tour visiting cities and towns from Croydon to Hull.

Each member of the group is involved in various side projects, making their commitment with Faustus somewhat sporadic.

However, with Bellowhead disbanding in May this year, Faustus could step into the spotlight.

With Benji on the guitar and bouzouki, Saul on the melodeon, Paul on the fiddle and oboe, and all of them singing, the band promises a night to remember on Monday evening.

Paul added: "I've played there with another ensemble but it's a first for Faustus – and I'm looking forward to introducing the band to the venue."

Tickets cost £13.50.

The gig starts at 8pm at the High Street venue.

LEGEND Christy Moore remains a relevant force on today's contemporary music scene 2010 saw him win Best Male at Ireland's prestigious Meteor Music Awards and the Penguin Book of Irish Verse included his song 'Lisdoonvarna'. Meanwhile 2011 saw him take the stage with Coldplay in front of 80,000 at Oxygen Festival and his cover of Bob Dylan's 'Hattie Carroll' has been included on The Rough Guide to Bob Dylan, which features the best Bob Dylan covers.

With his album Where I Come From released Nov 2013, Moore looks set to continue his reign as the king of Irish roots music, with a career – both as a sole musician and with Planxty and Moving Hearts – that has spanned over four decades.

He will be appearing Oxford's New Theatre on Wednesday, October 12 and we have a pair of tickets for this legend's gig. To be in with a chance of winning the tickets just answer this simple question:

Q: Christy's latest album title is the name of a flower - which one?

Ford Mustang: 'A work of art'

AS far as I can tell, everyone loves a Mustang. The reason for this is plainly simple – just look at that picture you see before you and you will soon begin to understand why. It is a work of art.

Ok, I know what some of you are thinking – 'it's a big fat muscle car that is draining the earth of all its fossil fuels is about as useful as a watch with no hands'. But you would be wrong – because what the Mustang does do is excite every strand of your body's nervous system and then swing into full attack mode on your internal organs and present you with one of the most thrilling drives you might ever undertake.

By Anthony Yates

Power and efficiency:

It is powered by a 5.0-litre V8 quad cam 32 valve engine with an induction sound tube. Max power comes in at 421PS with the addition of 530Nm of torque. Max speed is around 155mph with a 0-62 time of around four seconds.

I have to say that the sound from that V8 is intoxicating and it never gets boring. I am sure you all want to know what the MPG is. So all you eco warriors, please turn away now. You can, if you try really hard, return a combined 23.5mpg. Not bad then when you consider the size of that engine.

On the road:

The Mustang is a joy to drive no matter where you are going or what road surface you are driving on.

As the Mustang is rear wheel drive you do need to remember that it's very easy to spin up those rear wheels due to the massive amount of torque coming from that V8 engine.

Into the corners it felt planted and not heavy or cumbersome at all. If you feed in the power at the right time into the right corner then you will be rewarded with a massive amount of traction and speed in and out of corners.

Design and technology

The look says it all really. Owning a Mustang for me is about as exciting as it gets because it's all about presence on the road, and that is something you just can't ignore.

Inside you will find an 8" touch-screen with a 9-speaker DAB radio, auto headlamps, and rain sensing wipers. Along with Dual Zone Electronic Temperature Control, 6-way power front seats, ESP, Brembo 6-piston front callipers and selectable driving modes such as; snow/wet, normal, sport and track.

To sum up: The Mustang is an epic car and I am now a lost soul who is in need of some additional therapy, so I will be saving every penny I can because I want to continue to be that person that makes everybody who comes into contact with the Mustang – turn and give me a great big smile.

Price: (from) £35,995 (standard vehicle) – not including fitted options.

THE LAW HAS CHANGED ... DO YOU HAVE THE CORRECT GAS?

We can now offer
R1234YF car air-con
recharge and service

Is your car 2013 or newer? If so, you will need the correct gas.

As of the 7th September 2016 we are able to offer R1234yf refrigerant re-gassing, or a car air-con recharge as sometimes known at our Wheatley Car Centre Branch.

This gas is compulsory for new cars from 2013 all be it has been around since 2010, although some manufacturers are still refusing to use this, notably Mercedes who are not happy with the flammable nature of the gas, which in turn means not many companies offer the re-gassing service for cars using r1234yf. But due to the amount of cars we sell we have needed to be able have this service onsite so we can now offer this service to our customers.

A common question is why the old, r134a gas found in most cars today, is being replaced?

It's driven by environmental concerns as the new gas is more environmentally friendly.

So, for ALL your re-gas and service needs please contact our Wheatley Car Centre Service Department, tel. 01865 874046 opt 2 • www.wheatleycarcentre.co.uk

Williams get best result since June as Bottas comes in fifth

WILLIAMS recorded their best result since June at Sunday's Malaysian Grand Prix, as Valtteri Bottas made good use of tyre strategy to bring his car home in fifth.

The Finn recovered from a poor qualifying that saw him line up 11th to work his way through the field and secure his best finish since finishing on the podium at the Canadian Grand Prix four months ago.

He moved up to eighth after benefitting from the collision between Sebastian Vettel and Nico Rosberg at the first corner.

By Adam Flinn

Starting on the medium tyre meant he didn't make his first pitstop until lap 28, and switched to the hard compound for the remainder of the race.

And with most of the grid opting for a two-stop strategy, he was able to jump up the order and leave Kuala Lumpur with 10 points.

"It was a very good day for us," said Bottas after the race.

"We definitely got everything there was to get from the race – the start was good, and we were able to make our planned strategy work."

However it was the complete opposite for Bottas' team-mate Felipe Massa, who had a torrid afternoon beset with bad fortune to finish 13th.

Massa's race was ruined even before the start, as his throttle wasn't working ahead of the formation lap and he was left stranded on the grid, before a puncture on lap six compounded his troubles.

He said: "Well, when it's not your day, it's not your day."

"My throttle wasn't working. The engine was on and I was trying to get it to work, but I couldn't so we did the start from the pitlane."

It was a race to forget for Banbury-based Haas as well, as both Romain Grosjean and Esteban Gutierrez's races ended prematurely in dramatic fashion.

Grosjean's brakes exploded on lap seven at the end of the long straight before the final corner, while Gutierrez's front wheel broke off on lap 39, for which the team was fined €5,000. Manor had a quiet afternoon as Pascal Wehrlein and Esteban Ocon finished at the back in 15th and 16th respectively.

Palmer celebrates first point

THINGS finally came together for Renault driver Jolyon Palmer as he scored his first ever point in Formula One at Sunday's Malaysian Grand Prix.

The British rookie made full advantage of a one-stop strategy to move up from his qualifying position of 19th to bring his car home in 10th.

He started on the hard tyres and remained on those until lap 31, before changing to the soft tyres until the end of the race.

"It feels good, I'm really happy," said Palmer.

"The car gave me everything I needed, we handled the tyres well and the team did a great job with strategy and pitstops."

"We got a little bit of a break as well – finally everything came together and we got it home to P10."

However, team-mate Kevin Mag-nussen was not quite so lucky, as he got caught up in the aftermath of the collision between Sebastian Vettel and Nico Rosberg at the first corner.

A knock from the collision damaged a brake cooling drum fence, eventually leading to Magnussen pulling out of the race after 17 laps.

He said: "We changed the front wing and kept pushing, however the brake cooling was damaged and the brake temperature kept climbing, so we had to retire."

Lynn in strong performance at Malaysia GP

GP2 racer Alex Lynn has said he had a "really good race" at the Malaysian Grand Prix last weekend, despite not registering any points in his second race.

But the Oxford-based DAMS racer did finish fourth in the first race at the Sepang International circuit to record 12 points.

In Saturday's race, Lynn finished in fourth place with a time of 52:34.263, 16.214 seconds off the PREMA Racing winner Antonio Giovinazzi.

But even though he started fifth on the grid, he could only manage a 12th-placed finish in Sunday's race, two places off the points positions, while Trident racer Luca Ghiotto took maximum points.

He said the slump happened because "something wasn't quite right with our tyres".

Yet London-born Lynn was in a positive mood after the weekend's action as he closes in on eighth place in the standings with just one more round to go.

He said: "I had a really good race in the GP2 Series supporting the Malaysian Grand Prix to finish fourth, which is a welcome upturn in form for us bearing in mind the difficult summer the DAMS team have had."

Lynn is ninth in the standings on 105 points, four behind eighth and seven off seventh place with one round remaining.

The last round of the GP2 Series is the United Arab Emirates Grand Prix on November 26 and 27. In the meantime he will make his debut in the FIA World Endurance Championship at Fuji on October 16.

Back-to-back defeats for Oxford Hockey Club ladies

OXFORD Hockey Club ladies' 1s made it two defeats in two for the new season following a 4-2 defeat at home to Epsom in the South League Division 2 on Saturday.

Having been held up on the M25, Epsom arrived late and Oxford used the extra preparation time to their advantage, going close with early chances from Christy Barnard, Kim Warman and Floor Timmer.

Epsom soon came into the game, and OHC keeper Emma Henriksen had to be on good form.

She kept out a penalty flick but Epsom's pressure told and they were able to break the deadlock with two goals towards the end of the half.

Oxford strengthened their efforts in the second half and good pressure from Warman and Beth Williamson resulted in a number of corners for Oxford.

A great cross-pitch ball from Oxford found Jen Johnson out wide who released player of the match Amy Litchfield in space before the ball found its way to Timmer in the D who duly finished.

Epsom then found their own space with a ball through the middle of the field finding the Epsom forwards in the Oxford D who made the score 3-1. A breakaway goal soon after brought their tally to four.

Oxford continued to push and were rewarded close to the death when Harri Wilkinson slotted home an Oxford penalty corner to leave the final score 4-2 to Epsom.

Oxford City Stars to add new signings

OXFORD City Stars' head coach Simon Anderson is to receive a boost after the club's board agreed to bolster the playing squad.

The Stars have only registered one win in five matches in all competitions so far, since the season opener on September 11.

That solitary win came at home to Streatham in an 8-5 victory on September 18.

In the absence of a match this weekend Oxford City Stars' board of directors met to review the opening of the season and unanimously agreed to the addition of further players to the squad.

Director Paul Lynch said: "We've looked at where we are and the injuries and depth of squad and we feel we need to add more bodies to the roster."

"We'll be speaking to head coach Simon Anderson in the coming days."

U's lose on penalties to rivals but pick up point

TEN-MAN Oxford United picked up a point despite a penalty shootout defeat at local rivals Swindon Town in the Checkatrade Trophy on Tuesday night.

Although winger Alex MacDonald received a red card just before half-time, Michael Appleton's men held out for a 0-0 draw in normal time.

In the new competition format, Oxford still receive a point for the shootout defeat, while Swindon, who will be delighted to have some form of win against the U's, collect two points for winning the shootout.

Ryan Taylor was the only United player to convert from the spot as the U's lost 3-1 on penalties.

Despite Sean Murray and Luke Norris missing from 12 yards for the Robins, Liam Sercombe, Wes Thomas and Joe Ruffles all made costly mistakes from the spot.

Darnell Furlong scored the decisive penalty for the hosts.

MacDonald's evening was ended on 37 minutes as he was judged to have left his studs in when challenging Swindon's Anton Rodgers in midfield, leaving the U's to compete with 10 men for almost an hour.

The red card was not a surprise – the winger's dismissal is the fifth red card in the last five meetings between the sides and the seventh in the last eight.

By George Welch

The visitors had the better chances before that point, but their game plan immediately changed.

United's defence dug in to keep Town's chances to a minimum and goalkeeper Simon Eastwood was once again in superb form to maintain his clean sheet.

Having won the last six meetings, it was the first time Oxford had not won a derby since 2001.

But with so many fans opposing the inclusion of Premier League and Championship under-23 sides in the new look Football League Trophy – now known as the Checkatrade Trophy – the atmosphere was nothing like previous meetings.

Tuesday night's attendance of a mere 2,698 (including 533 U's fans) is the lowest ever gate for the A420 derby, despite being the highest attendance in the tournament on the night.

Supporters up and down the country have been encouraged to boycott the matches, with the hashtag #BTeamBoycott being used on Twitter to urge fans to stay away from games.

With Oxford's other Group 11 opponents – Exeter City and Chelsea U23 – not playing until later this month, they currently sit in second spot, one point behind Swindon.

The top two teams will qualify for the knockout stages. Oxford, who are in a commanding position to qualify, will play away at Chelsea U23s on November 8 for their last group game.

Plato finishes year in seventh

JASON Plato's chances of a third British Touring Car Championship title were dashed in the final circuit of the season at the Brands Hatch Grand Prix on Sunday.

Plato was one of eight drivers who had a mathematical chance of taking the crown, although he was 58 points adrift of leader Sam Tordoff heading into the final round.

The Silverline Subaru BMR Racing driver finished fourth, second and 10th in the weekend's three races to climb a position and finish the BTCC season in seventh place.

Plato's Subaru teammate Colin Turkington also had a chance of silverware and he was still in the title hunt after winning the first two races.

Turkington finished the last race of the season in 12th position to finish the championship in fourth place, 33 points adrift of champion Gordon Shedden.

Banbury left blue after Newbury loss

BANBURY narrowly missed out on a losing bonus point with a 28-20 loss to Newbury Blues on Saturday.

They found themselves behind to the visiting side early on with pressure eventually telling with an early forwards try.

With the Blues squandering a number of their own opportunities Banbury managed to level the scores through Sam Stoop.

Man of the match Jack Briggs took a quick line-out with quick hands putting Stoop over in the corner.

Stand-in captain Ed Phillips then put the Bulls ahead with a penalty to make the scores 10-7 at half-time.

They extended their lead against the run of play with another penalty after the break, but it didn't last long as

North Leigh one win from FA Cup first round proper

The Millers create history

NORTH Leigh are just a solitary win away from a potential money spinning FA Cup first round tie after beating Folkestone Invicta 3-1 in the FA Cup third qualifying round on Saturday.

Saturday's win at Eynsham Park created history for the Millers as it is the first time they have ever progressed beyond the third qualifying round.

A brace from forward George Seacole and a Wayne Turk header ensured John Brough's men beat their Ryman Premier League opposition.

Folkestone Invicta play in the league above their hosts but it was a game in which the Millers comprehensively outplayed their opponents.

The west Oxfordshire side's reward is a trip to National League side Eastleigh on October 15.

Amid a heavy downpour of rain and with the floodlights on, the first half saw the Millers take a late two goal lead after a number of chances went begging.

By George Welch

Folkestone Invicta were poor in the first half and rarely threatened Leigh's defensive line throughout.

Although the second half was more even, the visitors were still second best to a vibrant Millers team, although their late consolation goal salvaged some pride.

Despite wasting several early opportunities, Leigh finally made a breakthrough on 36 minutes.

Morgan Williams floated a corner from the right into the box where Turk rose high to nod home.

Just six minutes later, Elliot Osborne-Ricketts found Seacole on the left side of the penalty area and the striker struck a low shot firmly past the keeper from seven yards to double Leigh's advantage.

The early minutes of the second half were full of drama as a North Leigh goal on 47 minutes was ruled offside before a free kick just outside the visitors' penalty area came to nothing.

But on the hour mark, the best goal of the game was scored and it was Seacole again who got his sixth goal in three games.

Lance Williams threaded a delightful ball through to Seacole who clipped the ball past the advancing keeper into the left hand corner from 12 yards.

With a 3-0 lead, the Millers ensured their defence remained solid whilst Folkestone tried desperately to get back into the match.

With time running out Folkestone continued to press and on 86 minutes they were rewarded with a goal as Carl Rook tapped the ball home from close range.

Banbury suffer FA Cup defeat

• Banbury celebrate Ricky Johnson's goal (picture by Edwin Barson)

BANBURY United were cruelly denied a first appearance in the FA Cup fourth qualifying round draw since 1980 when a last-minute winner condemned them to a 2-1 defeat at Wealdstone on Saturday.

Wealdstone substitute Sahr Kabba knocked home a right wing cross from close range in the 88th minute to cause heartbreak for the Puritan fans who had travelled to St George's Stadium.

Ricky Johnson had levelled for the hosts on 57 minutes after Tom Hamblin had given the Raiders a first half lead.

Wealdstone started the better of the two sides and took the lead on 11 minutes when an excellent cross from the right by Matthew Whichelow was met with a bullet header from Hamblin at the far post.

Wealdstone dominated the first half and were unlucky not to extend their advantage.

But on a rare United venture forward in the 41st minute the impressive George Jeacock caused problems down the left with his pace but his low cross into the centre was hacked clear before a United player could pounce.

The Puritans were much improved in the second half and equalised on 57 minutes when Johnson followed up his own rebound from a set-piece to bring the hosts level.

From then on Banbury looked more dangerous going forward and either side looked as though they might nick a winner.

But it was the Conference South side who snatched the winner when Kabba finished from close range two minutes from time.

Banbury also progressed to the second round of the Southern League Cup by beating Cirencester Town on penalties after a 1-1 draw on Tuesday night. A late Andy Gunn header for United forced penalties.

Didcot Town denied twice at the death

DIDCOT Town went out of their first three before Jordi Mulvany faltered with Didcot's fourth and Elliott Osborne-Ricketts netted the winner.

On Saturday Didcot were denied a win at the death against Bishop's Cleeve in the league.

Diddy broke the deadlock when skipper Carnell nodded home in the 79th minute.

Cleeve fought hard for an equaliser and Jack Watts hit the post in the final minute before their prayers were answered with a controversial 93rd-minute penalty.

Jack Horrell stepped up to blast past Leigh Bedwell to give them a point.

With minutes remaining Whitehead fired in a low drive to put them back in the game, before grabbing an injury time equaliser with a free kick.

Going immediately to penalties both sides scored two out header for United forced penalties.

Freds still looking for first league win of the season

WANTAGE Town are still looking for their first league win of the season following Saturday's 3-0 defeat to Tiverton Town at Alfredian Park.

A brace from Owen Howe and a first half header from Craig Duff secured a convincing win for the visitors who remain unbeaten and condemned the Freds to second bottom in the table.

Another heavy defeat means Wantage are winless in 11 Southern League Division 1 South & West matches.

The Alfredians had started the better of the two teams and had the chance to take the lead on seven minutes, but Todd Hathaway's shot was just inches wide of Tivvy's right hand post.

But just over 10 minutes later, the visitors took the lead after the Freds conceded a free kick just inside their own half.

A floated cross was met by the target. the head of Craig Duff, who headed home.

The Freds nearly levelled straight away with some nice link up play with Mark Francis and Hathaway cutting through Tivvy's defence, but again Hathaway was unable to find Tivvy applied more pressure in the second half and doubled their lead when Howe converted his first of the afternoon from four yards on 70 minutes.

Howe grabbed his second almost straight after kick off to round off a convincing 3-0 win.

Late goals give United victory

• Goalscorer Wes Thomas in action against Swindon Town

OXFORD United picked up their first League One away win of the season with a 2-0 victory at Bolton on Saturday, putting them just two points off the play-offs.

Late goals from Wes Thomas and Chris Maguire earned United their first win on the road in six attempts.

The win over the Trotters marked the club's first away win in League One since beating Northampton Town 1-0 on March 31, 2001.

The win was fully deserved for Michael Appleton's men, whose first win in Bolton for 40 years was secured through Thomas's thumping finish to a fine move with 10 minutes to go and Maguire's strike as the game approached stoppage time.

Joe Rothwell had the first real effort at goal after nine minutes, but the former Manchester United youngster could only find the roof of the net before Maguire tested Mark Howard in the Bolton goal with a flicked effort from eight yards. Maguire was the architect as United made most of the early running.

Bolton had a James Henry shot bravely blocked by Joe Skarz on 22 minutes and grew into the game after the U's had made a bright start.

Another Henry effort was side-footed over the bar just after the half hour mark but the best chance of the first half fell to Kane Hemmings in injury time when Howard spilled a free kick but recovered to parry the striker's effort from close range.

The second half was just as abrasive, with both sides defending doggedly and the midfield working hard to stifle their opponents.

Charlie Raglan typified the spirit with a crucial block just after the hour to keep the clean sheet intact.

Bolton boss Phil Parkinson made a triple substitution to try to find a way through the United defence.

But the Yellows, roared on by more than 1,300 fans, continued to threaten. Hemmings and substitute Alex MacDonald both went close.

On 80 minutes, it was the two subs MacDonald and Thomas who combined to win the game for United.

MacDonald's cross was perfect and Thomas, arriving at the far post, thumped it past Howard to make it 1-0 to the visitors. The game was wrapped up in the closing stages when a rebounded Hemmings effort was slotted home by Maguire.
